A very Happy February to all! After an amazing and sunny 72 degrees yesterday (2/10) hopefully we can put the misery of Storm Fern behind us! I did have some fairly minor damage to my 911, but of course that can be fixed. Our Cayenne Diesel did an outstanding job of getting us around on icy side streets, what a great car!

We were very fortunate that Old Natchez Country Club had an available make-up date on 2/7, so that we could enjoy the excellent

From the Driver's Seat
David Thomas,
President

Banquet put on by our wonderful Activities Chair, Valerie Gillespie. Those of you who attended know what a great location Old Natchez Country Club turned out to be, again thanks to Valerie's thorough search! The new location's larger capacity allowed us to have a full 20% increase in attendees with plenty of room for even more growth.

It was a distinct pleasure to announce that Valerie is our 2025 Enthusiast of the year! Please let her know how much she is appreciated when you see her. Valerie's trophy award was unfortunately delayed, but we'll get it to her ASAP! And Musik-Stadt founder and founding President John Hudson was honored for his upcoming 50th Anniversary of PCA membership with a beautiful trophy award. John was not able to attend, so we will also get his trophy to him ASAP!

As promised, Musik-Stadt club member and former NASA Chief Astronaut Robert “Hoot” Gibson gave another great talk on his high-speed pursuits, including winning the Gold Unlimited (top-level) class at the Reno National Air Races in 2015, flying a P51-D Mustang with 3,000 horsepower!

Vice-President and 2026 Concoors chair Joe Swanson gave a great review of 2025 and a preview of 2026 events. He announced a new Volunteer Portal for Concoors volunteer registration, which I have already used myself. Our

“can-do-anything” Webmaster Derry Kehoe created a very easy to use form built right into our website. If you haven’t tried volunteering at our Concoors, please consider doing so this year; it is always a lot of fun!

Registration, also right on our home page, is now open for the February 28th Chili Cookoff and Dessert Bakeoff to be held this year at 111 Motorcars. Another great event in the making!

Don’t forget to register for the first 2026 Drive, which is the always-enjoyable Williamson / Maury county loop ending with lunch at Serrato’s Steakhouse in Franklin. The date is Saturday, 3/14, and details are under the Driving Events tab on the website.

I’m always looking for a good P-car news item to share, and here’s one that’s really cool: Better by the Dozen: Car and Driver announces Editors' Choice awards for 12 Porsche Models coming from every currently-produced model line! I love the fact that the base Carrera is one of the 911 models honored, which, along with all the others, illustrates that regardless of trim, or even model, every Porsche has the full Porsche DNA which I think makes the entire Porsche range unique. No wonder PCA is the largest single-marque auto club in the world!

A Nice Morning Drive

Here we are... another month, another edition of Solid Gold! I hope everyone is enjoying this great weather (or staying indoors if it's not so much great weather by time you read this). For me, I've been making the most of the good weather by putting as many miles on Cool Papa Bert, the Vert as I can. And, in the not so good weather by watching the Olympics.

This month we have a guest column from our Member at Large, Norm Follis letting us know of upcoming activities from our members and members of the car community. We also have another entry from the Musik-Stadt Ladies Luncheon. And, don't forget our annual Chili Cook-Off and Desert Competition! Our Club Drives start up again, thanks to Mike Moody and his Team, beginning in March with a drive to Serrato's Steak House. Check out all our upcoming drives for March, April, and May.

We just had our annual Banquet at the beautiful Natchez Country Club, so look for photos of the event next month! That and more for our next issue!

Porsche Design Unveils the Chronograph 1 – PCA Member Edition

Porsche Design honors the 70th anniversary of the Porsche Club of America with a new edition of the Chronograph 1. Exclusively made for a special community, PCA members now have the opportunity to customize Porsche Design's most iconic timepiece that was originally designed by F. A. Porsche in 1972.

Creating a special sense of community amongst members, this new timepiece features the PCA logo and "PORSCHE CLUB OF AMERICA" lettering, and optionally a personalized club region name stated on the case back. The made-to-order watch will not only come with a titanium bracelet, but also two sportive textile straps in vibrant Club Blau, one featuring the PCA logo and the other the PCA 70Y anniversary logo.

PORSCHE CLUB OF AMERICA

New Club Breakfast

MONTHLY CLUB BREAKFAST MEETING

Saturday, March 7th @ 8:30 am - 10:00 am

The Monthly Club Breakfast Meeting is scheduled for the first Saturday of every month at the Hilton Garden Inn in Cool Springs, located at 9150 Carothers Parkway, Franklin. The breakfast will be served sharp at 8:30 am, followed by a business meeting. The meeting will conclude by 10:00 am. Club members can access the breakfast buffet, and the charge for the same is $13.95 per person plus applicable taxes.

Are you acquainted with a Porsche owner who hasn't yet joined our Club? If so, we invite you to extend a warm welcome by inviting them to our upcoming Club Breakfast. It's an exceptional opportunity to connect with fellow enthusiasts, forge new friendships, and introduce potential members to our vibrant community.

Our monthly club meetings have always been a cornerstone of the Musik Stadt Region: a place to connect, learn, and share the passion that brings us all together. This year, we're taking another step forward by inviting outside speakers to bring fresh perspectives to our gatherings. Bringing in guest presenters, whether from the automotive world, local businesses, motorsports, detailing and restoration shops, inviting our Magazine advertisers, or even community organizations, adds depth and variety to our meetings. These speakers help us explore new ideas, discover useful resources, and strengthen our ties within the broader Nashville community.

As we continue to grow our programming, we also want to make it easier for members to contribute articles, photos, and stories for the newsletter. Our editor has asked that anyone submitting content include the phrase "For the Magazine" in the email subject line. Using that exact wording ensures submissions are automatically routed into a dedicated folder, preventing them from getting lost among the dozens of emails he receives each week. It's a small step that makes a big difference in keeping our communications running smoothly. Beyond the educational value, guest speakers and member submitted content both create opportunities for engagement. Members can ask questions, learn from experts, and share their own experiences, all of which enrich the sense of community that defines the Musik Stadt Region.

Member at Large

We're already building a lineup for the year, and we welcome suggestions. If you know a business, specialist, or organization that would be a great fit for our club, or if you'd like to contribute to the Magazine, we'd love to hear from you. Please contact David Thomas at David.b.thomas@outlook.com for more information.

THE VOICE OF AMERICA'S GREATEST COUNTY

March 14 Tour of Williamson/Maury Counties & Lunch at Serrato's Steakhouse

Drive
Captain
Mike Moody,

Join us for a relaxing tour of Williamson & Maury Counties ending at Serrato's Steakhouse in Franklin, a favorite with club members for its great food and hospitality. Meet at Jonathon's Grille (formerly Chili's) at 107 Creekside Crossing, Brentwood at 10am for safety briefing and directions. Groups will depart at 10:15 and 10:30am. Tour will last less than 1-1/2 hr so no rest stops along the way so arrive with full tanks and empty bladders. We will take our favorite route through Leipers Fork, Santa Fe, Theta, and finally Franklin for lunch. Reservations are required so email drives.mskpca@gmail.com If we have more reservations than space, don't fret as there is a nice Mexican restaurant and Panera Bread close by. Reservations open March 1 so email drives.mskpca@gmail.com. Members who are joining us for the first drive can register one week earlier than March 1.

Porsches & Pizza NEW LOCATIONS!

We're back with Porsches & Pizza in 2026 with a West Nashville location change.

Our wonderful Dalt's location abruptly closed in December so we were on the hunt for a replacement in the West Nashville area and landed in TailGate Brewery. TailGate Brewery has an expansive list of craft beer along with a great menu that includes craft pizza. Our Mellow Mushroom location continues into 2026 at the downtown Franklin location. Open up your GPS and point it to either location on Wednesday, January 21 @ 6:00 PM.

HOW PORSCHE'S FORMER GO-TO DRIVER KEEPS HIMSELF BUSY

What is five-time Daytona winner Hurley Haywood doing now?

By Guest Writer Jan 24, 2026

This article originally appears in Classic Motorsports

He exudes a calmness, almost to the point of shyness, with that lingering, sly smile that he displays to his friends and others familiar to him. But behind that charming and cheerful milquetoast exterior lies an unsurpassed talent for driving race cars expertly at high speeds and winning major international events with a honed skill that most would say just came naturally to Hurley Haywood.

After nearly five decades competing around the world, Haywood, now 77, chose to retire from race car driving in 2012. Yet he still holds the record as the world's winningest endurance sports car racer. He has three overall victories at the 24 Hours of Le Mans, two at the 12 Hours of Sebring, five at the 24 Hours of Daytona. He's raced in the IROC series four times and at the Indy 500. He's earned championships in both IMSA and SCCA and won dozens of other races.

When he hung up his helmet after finishing on the podium at the 24 Hours of Daytona in 2012, which had marked his 40th start in that iconic race, Haywood "figured that was a good time to stop," he said. "I think that's a record that probably will never be broken, but I just felt that that was a good time to stop."

Well, perhaps to stop driving professionally, but Haywood has continued to "do a lot of stuff on the track," including Porsche driving and dealer training events, representing the Brumos Collection, and serving as an ambassador for the Rolex watch brand at racing events around the country.

After winning Daytona overall in 1973—we've all seen that photo before—Hurley Haywood would rack up four more big wins there. Photograph courtesy Porsche Haywood became the face of Brumos Racing after meeting driver and team owner Peter Gregg in 1967. He competed for the team in the Can-Am, Trans-Am and IMSA series. He also helped develop both the Brumos Driving Experience and the Porsche Sport Driving School while working for Brumos. He kept an office at the dealership in Jacksonville, Florida, until it was sold to Fields Auto Group in 2015.

"When I stopped racing, I was still connected very strongly with Brumos," he said. "I was a co-owner and I had responsibilities with the dealership, especially on the Porsche side, so I always kept busy. Then, when we sold the dealerships, Fields kept me on for about a year. I still do a lot of work with them, but not officially. I have no title and no responsibilities. I just sort of show up for events and promote their product.

"I also have a contract with Rolex and a contract with Porsche, so it keeps me busy."

Haywood, who now lives in St.

Porsche still keeps Hurley busy. When the brand unveiled its latest IMSA GTP endurance racer, for example, Hurley was there. Photograph by Chris Tropea Augustine, Florida, with his husband, Steve Hill—with another home in Vermont—has no regrets about retiring. "I just didn't like it anymore," he explained. "There were a lot of young kids coming into it that were extremely aggressive. I think the cars were pretty cool to drive, but when the driving went to the computer side, where the computers regulate what the car was doing, I kind of lost interest because I liked [being in control]. The racing was so different than when I started to when I closed my racing career.

"I think that our generation of racers and the cars we drove were some of the greatest times of racing—in the '70s, '80s and '90s. I'm pretty proud of having raced for nearly five decades."

Haywood has enjoyed a longtime relationship with the Rolex brand, which sponsors many sporting events around the world, including the Rolex 24 At

Daytona. "I've been an ambassador for Rolex basically since 1991," he said. "I first just had a handshake on our program and then they wanted to formalize it, so now we have a contract."

As for his work with Porsche, "If they have something really special or they have a really high-level person coming to one of their [driving experiences], I might show up," he noted, "but I don't teach anymore, so it's up to them when they want me for an event."

Haywood's ongoing relationship with Brumos continues with his association with the Brumos Collection, in Jacksonville, created by a former Brumos Porsche owner Dan Davis. "Dan built an absolutely beautiful building to house all of our race cars, and I'm there quite a bit, and we're open to the public now, I think four days a week," he explained. "It's just a wonderful showcase. Not only is the building spectacular but what's inside the building is spectacular. So I'm busy doing that. We do a lot of events there."

Photograph courtesy Porsche

So, how did he get here? Yes, he met Peter Gregg while he was racing autocrosses in a Corvette while in college, "but I never in my wildest imagination dreamt that I would be in the position that I'm in today," he admitted with a smile. "It was not something that my family necessarily approved of, but my parents knew that I loved automobiles, and I was driving a car when I was 12 years old around the farm [in Illinois]. I drove in all kinds of conditions, but I never really put that together as far as making a living doing it.

"I had a really fast Corvette and I used to autocross it and I was successful at it. I beat Peter Gregg at an autocross and he came up to me and said, 'You've got to be pretty good to beat me.'"

They connected again in 1969, when Haywood turned 21, got his racing license, and the pair won their class at Watkins Glen that year. Haywood soon got his draft notice and flew to Vietnam, returning to the U.S. and the track in 1971.

"If it hadn't been for Peter Gregg, I would not be in the position that I'm in. He saw a hidden talent."

Although he said that coming out as a gay race car driver was not an easy decision for the otherwise very private person, he did it in style. First, he revealed his orientation in Sean Cridland's excellent book, "Hurley: From the Beginning," which then inspired the actor and driver Patrick Dempsey to do a documentary in 2019 called simply "Hurley."

Haywood related the story of how a gay high school senior came to him after seeing the film and asked him for some help in his life. "I told him to remember one thing," he recalled. "It's not what you are, it's who you are. It's the who that people remember. About two years later, his mother called me and said, 'I don't know what you told my son, but it saved his life.' And coming from a mother, this was a pretty strong statement.

"So I said to myself, 'If I can be an inspiration to two people or 10 people or a hundred people, then it's worthwhile.' I've been given a lot in my life, and I just thought it was time to give something back to help other people.”

Was coming out the right decision? “I’ve been overwhelmed with the support from people that I don’t have any idea who they are,” he offered. “They would just call up or send me a letter, literally thousands of responses. There were one or two negative things, like, ‘That’s so unlike a racing driver.’ So, 99.9% of them have been positive.”

Haywood has been inducted into a number of halls of fame, including the Motorsports Hall of Fame of America, the IMSA Hall of Fame, the Florida Sports Hall of Fame and others. He’s often seen judging at concours d’elegance, such as The Amelia in Florida.

A 1961 Porsche 356 Roadster Outlaw and a 2024 Porsche Macan GTS are in his garage, and he enjoys the company of his three English cocker spaniels, Indie, Watkins and Laguna.

Hurley, Steve and a bunch of dogs, including some extras from the neighborhood.

Haywood has been with his partner, Steve, for a remarkable 35 years, and they and the three cocker spaniels spend their time between those Florida and Vermont homes these days. They were married in New York City in 2012.

January wasted absolutely no time humbling me. In my year-end recap for 2025, I predicted that unit volume would pull back modestly, noting that early January had produced the lowest number of Porsches for sale across the three major online auction platforms that I could remember seeing. That observation held true for about a week. Then the floodgates opened. January 2026 went on to become the biggest January on record since I began tracking the market, posting a 73% sell-through rate on 605 cars for a staggering $72,122,544 in total dollar volume. For context, January of last year closed at a 69% sell-through rate, $41,125,442 in sales, and 561 units. Much of this outsized dollar figure can be traced back to a number of heavy hitters crossing the block at Mecum's

Kissimmee sale, paired with strong action out of Arizona and online, setting an unexpectedly aggressive tone for the year ahead.

Leading the charge in January was the 918 Spyder, with five examples crossing the block and three finding new homes. The headline sale was a 2015 918 Spyder showing just 845 miles, finished in Paint-to-Sample Pure Orange and optioned with the Weissach Package, along with Color-to-Sample Pure Orange interior piping in place of the more common Acid Green. While it was described as a one-of-one color, there are in fact a handful of other Pure Orange cars known. Even so, the combination of low mileage and eye-catching spec proved irresistible, resulting in a new auction record at $6,050,000. The other two cars to sell did so strongly as well, hammering at $3,575,000 and $3,205,000. The two remaining examples failed to meet reserve, both stalling just short of the $3m mark.

Not to be outdone, January also delivered a new auction record for the Carrera GT. This one came as a bit of a surprise, as it was not the lowest-mileage example we have seen, showing just over 2,000 miles, nor was it a particularly exotic specification, finished in Seal Grey Metallic over Dark Grey leather. Even so, it became the first Carrera GT to cross the $3m mark at auction, selling for $3,085,000. Staying with the Porsche supercar theme, we also saw a strong result for a 959 Komfort, which sold at $2,535,000. Showing just 1,000 miles and modified by Canepa with their Phase II specification, this example featured a claimed 640 horsepower along with Canepa's suspension upgrades. That result landed squarely between the roughly $2m we typically see for standard 959s and the $3m territory occupied by full 959 SCs Reimagined by Canepa.

Another one of my predictions for 2026 was that Boxster and Cayman values would begin to level off for standard variants, while the special cars would start to separate themselves. So far, that thesis is holding up well. January delivered the first 718 Spyder RS to cross the $200k mark since May of last year, with a 1,700-mile example selling for $214,000. Finished in Paint-to-Sample Gulf Blue and well optioned with the Weissach Package, Magnesium wheels, and PCCB brakes, this result suggests buyers are once again willing to pay up for the right spec. Digging further back into the Boxster catalog, we also saw a new auction record for a 987 Boxster Limited Edition. Showing just 3,000 miles, it sold for $53,666, a figure that even eclipses recent Boxster S Limited Edition results. Rounding things out was a Boxster RS 60 Spyder with 22,000 miles that brought $48,000, topping recent mileage comps and reinforcing the strength of the special-edition Boxster market.

993 Turbos carried their late-2025 momentum straight into January, highlighted by a 37,000-mile 1997 example that hammered at $395,000. Finished in Black over Black, the car was lightly modified with Bilstein PSS9 dampers and RS adjustable sway bars, changes that appeared to be well received rather than penalized. Condition was strong, service history was well documented, and factory options such as Sport Seats and carbon-fiber interior trim helped round out the package. At $395,000, the result topped recent mileage comps that have largely lived in the $340–350,000 range.

Looking ahead, the calendar doesn't offer much time to catch our breath. RM Sotheby's Miami sale lands at the end of February, followed closely by the Amelia Island auctions in March, both of which are poised to bring another wave of high-quality cars to market. After an opening month that already rewrote the January record books and validated more than a few early predictions, 2026 is shaping up to be a strong year. If January is any indication, bidders remain engaged, selective, and willing to pay up when the right cars appear.
